College Corner Butler University, (Indianapolis, Indiana)

Located in Indianapolis, Butler University offers both small class sizes and big-city perks. Butler has 65+ majors and is among the top schools in the country for undergraduate education—in and out of the classroom. The beautiful 300+ acre campus will feel like home and the lovable live mascot (Blue IV) has a national following, but it's the students who will really impress you. Bulldogs are the hardworking, ambitious type. Butler students graduate prepared to step immediately into a career or graduate school and make an impact in their communities. In fact, 98 percent of Butler students are employed or attending grad school within just six months of graduation.

A Butler education will transform a person. It will also transform to fit the learner. At Butler University, students are able to tailor studies, activities, research, and service learning to the subjects, ideas, and career fields in which they are really interested. Add the close-knit community of staff, faculty, and friends who will support the students, and he or she will be primed to do their very best work. The level of work that goes into academic studies, and everything else is known as "The Butler Way." It's the philosophy of always doing more than your best, constantly pushing things further, and helping others do the same.
